FROM YOUR EDITOR'S DESK

Auction Results of the Edwin M. Hydeman collection sold by A. Kosoff of Encino, Calif. totaled $267,028. from 1311 lots according to recent price release of this March 3-4 sale.

Small World when in the coin hobby, you don't know who you will meet or what you will find. Your editor and Mrs. went on a shopping tour and found ourselves buying the latest records at the "Melody Record Shop" at 10 Bloomfield Ave. in Newark. While admiring the large and various displays I mentioned the Coin Press, the shop owner and son, Jimmy Zigarelli, 12 years old looked up and said, "we subscribe to it." I then asked about Jimmies collection and finds. Jimmy is a beginner, but he proudly related how he found a 1922-P cent in VG in his dads cash register. At this point dad interrupted, "now I know why Jimmy wants to help in the store, so he can check over my cash box."

1945 Microscopic S—This new listing in the next edition of the Guide Book by Yeoman strikes me rather odd. There was all kinds of hella balue whether to list or not list the Small 1960 cent variety which is of definite importance in collecting, yet the micro. S dime will be listed without a peep. He might as well list all the others while he's at it as there are hundreds of micro. mint marks in the cents, dimes, quarters, etc. It is difficult to conceive the pattern or course Yeoman is taking. True varieties appear to be finding difficulty to be listed, I suggest better advisory in this matter. I suggest the 1960 double "D" be listed now, while the collector can find them and the price is low. Before the 1955 double shift was listed, it already established itself at $50. Unc. whereas if listed, it would have sold around $10. Unc. and increased gradually instead of forced up to the obsor-bent price of $130.00.

Eldridge G. Jones, Sec'y. of the MANA Assn. is actively campaigning for Treasurer of ANA office. Several clubs have nominated and will support.

The 2nd Paterson Coin Convention held Mar. 25 was a huge success. The host club, Garfield, should be proud of the result. Phil Rosenbaum, Gen. Chairman and the committee are commended for their fine job and efforts. The only comment I can make is we need larger bourse rooms. The Armory should do it.

NEW ISRAEL HALF POUND COMM. FOR "PURIM"

This coin was issued to coincide with the festival of Purim. Purim is celebrated in honor of Queen Esther and Mordecai in their struggle with Haman. Haman was the prime minister of Persia under King Xerxes. He issued repressive edicts against the Jews who were in exile there. Haman was hanged and King Xerxes revoked the edicts. In honor of this event it became customary to donate a half shekel tithe. The coin is in copper-nickel, weighs 12 gr., is 29.5 in diameter. The obverse is inscribed, "Israel" in Hebrew and Arabic, with the Hebrew date. Value is "Chatze Liro Israelit" 1 half Israeli pound.

The reverse is a replica of an ancient coin of the Jewish-Roman war, 66-73. This coin, the obverse of which is shown, has on its obverse a chalice or cup. Reading from right to left is "Chatzi Ha-shekel" half a shekel. Above the chalice are two characters reading from right to left "shin daled" abbreviating sh(nat) d(aled), year 4. This would be the year 69-70.

Total quantity minted 20,000 regular, and 5,000 proofs. About 6,000 regular and 1,500 were sent here.

QUEEN SMOKING CIGAR

Bernard Cook operates Cook's Curio Shop in St. Catharines, Ont. Canada. He reports finding the above Canadian Silver dollar 1960.

He calls it "The Cigar Smoking Queen" and values it at $5,000. and says it's the only one of its kind.

The cigar impression is actually the bubble hump of the metal which makes it appear the shape of a cigar.

PRICELESS GEMS

By Lester V. Strickler

A friend of mine recently gave me a book which I treasure greatly. I thought perhaps your readers would be interested in some of my findings in this wonderful book.

The book was published in 1909 and the title is "Money and Stamp Manual." Its contents are, in part, almost unbelievable and certainly unheard of by the average collector of today. I have picked out only a few of the many unusual listings.

The first oddity I noticed was the way the conditions were listed. There were five different conditions, each indicated by initials such as: A. Coin in fair condition; B. Coin in good condition; C. Coin in fine condition; D. Coin in uncirculated condition; E. Coin in proof condition. I am sure many collectors today would like to see coins listed so simple, instead of the many misleading and complicated ways that coins are listed today.

The prices in the book, compared to the prices of today, were almost amusing at times.

It was most surprising to find that some coins are not even listed the same today as they were fifty-two years ago. What we know today as "Indian Head Cents," was known then as "Liberty Feathered Head." The 1858 Indian head cent, which today is not even listed, was selling for ten cents in proof condition. The 1859 topped this by selling for twelve cents in proof condition. It also stated there are three varieties on this date but did not go into detail.

The 1881 Indian head cent had a very unusual variety. One type of 1881 was described as having the obverse same as an 1883 V nickel and reverse having a "T" within the wreath. At the time it was selling for $6.25 proof. What a gem this would be today. The regular 1881 issue was selling for six cents in proof condition.

One variety of the 1884 Indian head cent was listed as being made with a hole in the centre and being made of nickel. This coin was selling for $3.75 proof while the regular issue was listed as five cents in proof condition.

Something never heard of today by many collectors is a 1836 two-cent piece listed at $4.00 proof. This was called an experimental issue; design of eagle in clouds and made of copper. What a beautiful, priceless gem this must have been.

An 1865 Two-cent piece made of nickel, price at $2.25 proof, would certainly be accepted as beautiful piece of art by collectors today.

The 1881 Nickel Three-Cent piece which is listed today as one of the cheapest pieces was listed then as a great find. This was true especially if it had the obverse of the 1883 V nickel and was made of copper. Now, we have had listed an 1881 one-cent piece and a three-cent piece made like the V nickel on the obverse and only slight difference on reverse.

Two coins which surely must have been beautiful was the 1866 Lincoln nickel and the 1866 Washington nickel. The first selling for $10.00 and the second for $1.40, both in proof condition. In the nickel issue alone there were countless issues that are not heard of to many readers like myself. There were unusual V nickels issued in 1881, 1882, 1883, and 1884. The mint issued and sent out a number of five cent pieces as "patterns" or "on trial."

The 1881 was described as: Obverse like 1883 V nickel and reverse had large "5" in wreath, but without E Pluribus Unum. The 1882 was very similar to the 1883 nickel. The 1883 Variety I had the obverse of the V nickel but on reverse was 50N and 50C in two lines. Around the wreath are words "Five Cents" divided by 13 stars.

The 1884 V nickel Variety I had an octagonal hole in the centre. I would like to directly quote the book at this point concerning the above nickels. "That there can be no question as to the correctness of this, we have absolute proof, specimens of each of the coins here mentioned having been dealt in by several dealers. The values are comparatively high and ever increasing."

If you remember I have mentioned an 1884 cent and nickel which contain an octagonal hole in centre.

As I have already stated that some listings in this book seem almost unbelievable. I can't help but wonder what happened to these coins. Could it be that some of your readers have a few in their possession.

There are hundreds of such illustrations in this book which the readers may or may not find interesting. If your readers would like more illustrations about the oddities of coins, I would gladly write more on the subject.

Someone must have these "Priceless Gems."

—Lester V. Strickler, Timberville, Virginia

News Item

Radio Station WKRC of Cincinnati, Ohio, had a St. Patrick's Day contest recently. All listeners were invited to send in something unusual and something green in order to compete for cash prizes. One of the winners was Earl A. McBrayer, staff writer for COIN PRESS, who sent in a green patinated ancient Roman coin of the emperor Trajan who ruled the Roman Empire from 98-117 A.D.

The winners' names were read over station WKRC on St. Patrick's Day.

50-Cent Conviction

Costs U.S. $750,

Defendant Gets 1 Hour

CHICAGO, March 21 (AP) — The Federal Government won a 50-cent conviction yesterday that cost an estimated $750 to $2000 to prosecute.

The defendant, William Wallace, drew a sentence of one hour and Government attorneys drew a reprimand.

Wallace, an unemployed laborer, was arrested Feb. 28 after he tried to put two phony quarters into a juke box.

Wallace testified that the day of his arrest he had cashed a $90 relief check, made a round of taverns and probably picked up the quarters without realizing they were counterfeit.

The jury found him guilty of possessing 50 cents in counterfeit money.

"I personally don't understand why such a case was presented to the grand jury," Judge Michael L. Igoe said, then sentenced Wallace to "one hour in the custody of the United States Marshal."

Numismatic Personality Column

THE WHO'S WHO, AND WHAT THEY ARE KNOWN FOR IN NUMISMATICS COLUMN.

DR. CONWAY A. BOLT

Editor's note:

This is our first attempt to feature a Who's Who Personality Column about the people you hear about or have never heard of, whether reader, collector, dealer, writer, authority, curator, and anyone who is or has performed or contributed a service to the numismatic hobby. We would like to hear from you about your friends with details and photos. Surprise them with a write-up in our Who's Who Personality Column.

Dr. Conway A. Bolt is our first personality. At our request he has submitted the following column. Dr. Bolt is known for his large rare collection of Mint errors, gold sets and several other series. His collection has won many first prizes at leading conventions in the country. Among his other rarities was the 1913 Liberty head nickel unc., one of 6 known, which was traded years ago for rare gold coins he needed to complete his rare gold collection.

I have been a student of numismatics since I was about 15 years of age when my father gave me some old coins that he had acquired. In this there were several pieces that were not in circulation at that time - a half cent, a large cent, a half dime, a two cent piece, a shield nickel, a 1913 Buffalo, and a 1828 25¢ piece. I was supposed to write up all that I could find about these, so you could imagine my enthusiasm. My capital was limited even during my college and medical school days. I would go to the banks and get their "junk box" coins usually at face and enjoyed these for most every one would be different. This "junk" is what I was ashamed to show until Numismatic Errors came to the front. Then I found out that I had probably as large a collection of the Mint and Numismatic (Printers) Errors as anyone after showing these in Kansas City, Portland, Atlantic City, Springfield, and Boston. This has labeled me a "freak collector" when I really am a "bona fide" collector, I hope. This I will have to defend from now on.

I joined the ANA in 1938 and hold card #7351. Was a charter member of the Charlotte Coin Club (N.C.) and have served three terms as its President - 1940, 1959, and 1960. I now hold Life Membership #2 in this club (honorary). I belong and organized the Monroe Coin Club (home county) and hold card #1; am also a director of this club. I am also a director of the North Carolina Coin Clubs Association (the NCCCA) and hold charter membership #96. I also am a director in the Blue Ridge Numis. Ass'n (S.C.C.C.A.) and hold membership #15. I am also member of the Palmetto Coin Club (Columbia, S.C.) and the Gaffney (S.C.) Coin Club.

I am a member of the Collectors of Numismatic Errors and was elected Vice President in Portland when no one was present to M.C. the meeting, and in Boston I was elected President when Harry Forman refused to run for a 2nd term.

Now to MANA - charter member #543 and served as First Vice President in 1960 (elected in Washington, Dec. 5, 1959 after being elected Delegate-At-Large in Atlantic City, '59).

Back to ANA - Served as N. C. State Representative for several years in the early '40's when these were appointed. Was nominated for one of the Board of Governors in 1959, but declined as it was too late. Have been nominated again, so I guess I will have to take my medicine like a good boy and be a good loser. That means another piece for the Numismatist too.

Frank, it has been nice talking to you and rambling on like this. You are a good sport to listen to all this too. It makes me feel so - well, for a better word - insignificant. There is nothing that I like better than numismatics, organizing new coin clubs and helping new collectors, especially, young collectors. I do have a good size Numismatic Library and own complete sets of the Numismatist and the Numismatic Scrapbook. It is great trying to classify coins that are unlisted. The only thing that I regret is that I parted company with my 1913 Liberty Head Nickel which has now been named by a recent cataloguer as the Bolt Nickel owned by Geo. Walton. Now you know how I feel!

Frank, excuse this rather long discourse, but you asked for it. Hope to see you in Washington on March 18th at the opening of the exhibit "History of Money" at the Smithsonian.

Letters From Readers

Please find enclosed $3.00 for another years subscription to the Coin Press.

Recently while going through some rolls of nickels, I noticed a 1941-S Jeff. with a large S. I then went through all of them again. There were any amount with a small S but no more large. Not having seen anything written about this before I thought I would mention it and see if this is an oddity or common.

—John Sennhenn
Tomahawk, Wis.

Reading a letter in the Coin Press of "Letter of Inquiry - Mints", I have a little information Walter Brieschke, might like to have.

It does not have his full address in the magazine so if you please send me his address, if there is more to it then what you have in your magazine.

Maybe other readers would like to have this information. They should write, I believe, to the Treasurer's Dept. ask for the (Facts about United States Money) if he wishes to study the History and facts of U. S. Money it has 15 pages of wonderful information.

P.S. This booklet is free.

—Frank P. Yanek
2416 Taylor Street
Youngstown 2, Ohio

In going through a bag of pennies I've found a 1950-D penny. after reading your article in the March edition of Coin Press, on page 4. This dot aside of the D mint mark is about the size that I've illustrated in the letter. Please let me know if there has been anyone else that has found one like this.

I've been saving coins for 11 years and have gone thru thousands of pennies. This is the only one like this I've come across up till now. Also enclosed is my renewal to the Coin Press, which I usually read from cover to cover and save with my collection.

—C. M. Cole
Harrisburg, Penna.

First of all I would like to compliment you on your magazine.

We have a few collectors at the office and they have glanced thru the 2 issues I've received, and they too like it very much. I hope it helps to increase your subscriptions.

I was wondering if any of your subscribers has written you regarding the 1961-D Lincoln cent that has taken on this appearance pictured below.

In other words the last 1 connects to the 6 in a J fashion. That's suppose to look like a small letter j. Sorry I'm not much of an artist, but I think you can gather the idea. So far I have found 4 of these.

I also found a 1960 Ben Franklin half dollar with a piece out of the planchet plus the fact the top comes to a very slight point marring the word "of" on the reverse to some extent, also the top of the letter "S" in the word States.

I'm anxiously awaiting the next issue of your magazine which I sent for a few days ago, also, your reply concerning the two coins.

—Maxine Dixon
Streator, Illinois

1909-O VDB

In 1909 the New Orleans mint closed. In 1908 the first penny was struck at a branch mint. If pennies were struck at San Francisco in 1909 couldn't the New Orleans mint have made some proofs before closing? I mean couldn't there be, like a 1943 copper cent, a 1909-O V.D.B. and if they did was one ever found

—Eddie Rosenthal
Chicago, Illinois

Editor's note: I've never heard of any. It's possible, but improbable.

SMALL P CENTS

Should have written this letter sooner, but as they say "better late than never."

Will take this opportunity to say "thank you very much for your first article on "small date" cents."

It was a very definite "FIRST" for a number of us in this area, as we had not heard anything about "small dates" until receiving your magazine.

Best regards and keep up the good work.

—Virgil F. Berndt
Lake Geneva, Wis.

I have quite a few Lincoln cent "Oddities" but my two pets are a 1955-D that evidently been struck then raised up and struck again. It has a double ring around the edge of the front and on the back it has a "No 5" for 1955, "LIB" for Liberty and hardly visible "In God we trust."

My other one is a 1961-D which looks people down near the foot of the steps, and the slant line of the "r" of the word trust is longer.

A new subscriber but a very pleased one.

—Mrs. Mary Larus
Decatur, Illinois

P.S. I also have a 1883 Liberty head nickel with the figurine's mouth open. It looks like a chicken's bill. I call it my "cacklin' hen."

I am a subscriber of your magazine, being a new member, I found some good reading of great interest. Now I have a question or intonation, regarding Whitman Publishing Company which has issued a folder for coins from 1922 to 1960 nickels - if all are filled with proper dates - Then I assume that is a complete collection. I disagree - because just the other day I ran across a 5¢ Tombac 1943 - which was in Unc. condition - one that I have never seen - and I have seen a lot of 1943 Tombac. This special coin as I call it - is the size of a small penny or cent, and thinner in thickness than the 2 varieties of Tombac that were struck in 42 and 1943 also this small coin has the exact features as the large 1943. This is why I say that Whitman's folders are not up to date in the folders they sell. Would you be kind enough to let me know if it's rare or whatever other information you may pass on to me.

—Ben Thususka
St. Catharines, Ont.

THE POWER OF MAN

By

Ezio Rampellini, Numismatist
A.N.A. No. 31098

In the old days they use to say, that money makes a blind man see, and they also use to say that money is the Evil of all mankind. Well fellow collectors here is a true saying of what money can do to man.

The Power of a man
Is not the power in the man
What makes a powerful man
Is the money not the man
So to one and all
Here is a money poem.

Money makes the mayor go
Money rules the earth
People only use you
Just for what you're worth.
If you haven't any money
They simply fade away
Money is the only thing
That rules the earth today.

FACIAL SHADOW DIME

I found this 1960 Lincoln in a new roll from our local bank last Feb. or March. The 1960 dime was also found in a new roll.

The dime with the facial shadow, I found in some change several months ago.

I am interested to find out if any of your readers have reported any like these and if they might be considered rare and of any value.

—Mrs. Ruby L. Caplinger
Portsmouth, Ohio

I have looked over thousands of Lincoln cents in my quest for scarce cents without any luck, so I turned to errors or freaks to be able to get a kick out of collecting, with surprising results. There seems to be no end of them and have found many strange ones.

One choice one is a 1940D with unum spelt backwards on lower left rim between rim and wheat stalk, the regular E.P.U. still appears at top.

Another one is a 1944-P with the bus in Pluribus missing.

Still another is a 1944-P with Liberty missing.

Have found about twenty Lib-ertys.

—Ed Koehler
Kalamazo, Michigan

Canadian Correspondent

SOMER JAMES

The interest in coin collecting has leaped ahead, over the course of the past 4 months across Canada, at a great rate. This is evidenced by the increased demand for all types of coin accessories; the disappearance from circulation of all King George V small cents and nickel 5¢ pieces; and the increased prices being asked by dealers for hitherto common date coins.

The only denomination which the market is behind current catalogue values is on the Canadian silver dollar series, and your correspondent feels that this won't last for more than three months.

Whereas the Canadian mint produces sufficient silver dollars for what normally would be the economic demand for this size of coin, there are absolutely none in general circulation. As soon as the coins are shipped from the Mint to the distributing banks, they are snatched up by collectors and investors, and as prices reach what the investors consider to be profitable levels, they are then sold to dealers who in turn, turn them over as quickly as possible, because they are never sure when large quantities will become available. This holds true for the complete series, with the exception of the following key dates—1948, 1947 ML, 1947 pointed 7, and 1955 Arnprior.

Canadian Gold is in greater demand this year than ever before. The tremendous increase in interest in Gold throughout the U.S. is spilling over into Canada, and has created a shortage of even what were previously plentiful dates, to the extent that Canadian Gold is selling from 10% to 25% over current catalogue prices. By Canadian Gold, we of course mean the $5 and $10 series of 1912, 1913, and 1914.

Your correspondent will have some interesting information available for you on the trends of the Newfoundland coins for 1961, in the next issue.

Man Slugs Wife In $10,000 Bout

BOVIGO, Italy, March 21 — Giovanni Massari landed a lucky punch on his wife's jaw Monday. He hit his wife during an argument. Her head struck the wall, which broke open. Out spewed gold and silver coins.

Authorities said Tuesday that the coins, most of them minted before the First World War were valued at more than $10,000.

Barriers To International Trade And Collection Of Coins

By T. Earl Van Sickle, Jr.

Governments have long since learned the benefits of postage stamps as propaganda media and as a source of revenue. Therefore, they strive to give their stamps the widest possible circulation-distribution. Most countries have an official "philatelic agency" serving stamp collectors or dealers. Such a sales office usually offers at face value unlimited quantities of current mint (unused) stamps. However, in the field of COIN collecting the picture is quite different!

Most governments by their laws and "exchange control regulations" absolutely prevent or restrict to a pitifully small amount the worldwide distribution of their coins in numismatic channels. (Numismatics is the collection and study of coins, medals, etc.) The only coins that cross the borders of many countries are the circulated ones in the pockets of tourists. A large number of finance ministries, mints, and central banks take an indifferent attitude toward numismatists, thereby discouraging the spread of this cultural pursuit, and helping build barriers to international cultural diffusion. Some narrow-minded government officials see coins only as a medium of economic exchange. They regard collectors as being in a class with hoarders, misers, etc.

Some countries issue such small quantities of coins that the amounts placed in circulation are even inadequate as a domestic medium of exchange. Too many governments manufacture coins so inefficiently that the units cost of low denominations exceeds the face value. When an international dealer or distributor approaches a government, wishing to buy large quantities he is told, "Export of coins is illegal," or "Supplies are inadequate for domestic needs," or he is quoted a sales price five or ten times the face value of the coins. No one wants to buy (exchange money) at that exorbitant rate, least of all a sales minded dealer, because a large segment of his customers (low income persons, school children, etc.) can not or will not buy high priced coins.

It is particularly significant that the troublemakers of World War II, Germany, Italy, and Japan are today among those culturally unconscious governments who refuse either to supply the numismatic trade directly, or to authorize others to export current coin of their realms in quantity. One would think that of all the countries of the world these three former "Axis Powers" would do everything for good global public relations, for international understanding! Profuse availability of each country's mint coins results in greater worldwide distribution, which in turn attracts more devotees to the hobby. Collecting and studying coins of the world stimulates interest in other countries, increases curiosity about peoples and affairs of the universal community of nations, thus promoting cultural exchange. Therefore, facilitated distribution of the world's coins is a worthwhile aim that deserves YOUR effort and support.

The appropriate committees of UNESCO could do well to spend some time investigating this matter of barriers to commercial distribution of coins, a "cultural commodity". UNESCO should urge its member governments and others:

- (1) To manufacture enough coins to satisfy both domestic demand AND world numismatic demand, using the economies of mass production to assure the lowest possible cost;
- (2) To amend existing laws and regulations to allow exceptional export sales of unlimited quantities of current coin to established professional dealers;
- (3) That from an economic standpoint numismatic transactions are practically pure profit for the government of issue, since most coins will remain in possession of foreign collectors. It is highly unlikely that any coins will return to the country of origin to be exchanged for goods or services.

HONOR ROLL

of governments which cooperate with coin collectors and dealers for maximum distribution of their coins of current issue:

Collector's Review

MEXICAN COINS

The Mexican coinage is, in my opinion, most interesting. The coins can be purchased at very reasonable prices and an eye-catching collection can be developed on a small outlay of cash. On the obverse of many, or rather all except a minute few, there is depicted an eagle resting on a cactus holding a serpent in its beak. An old Indian legend is that such an event was actually witnessed and considered a good-luck omen by the Indians, and the present city of Mexico City was built near where the eagle was seen, ergo, the design is now on present Mexican coins.

An interesting fact on the 5-centavo coin of 1950 is that it bears a very close resemblance to the 25-centavo coin. Hence, the coin was re-called by the mint and many tons of these coins were melted, to avoid confusion in every-day change-making. However some coins escaped the melting pot and makes an excellent conversation piece.

Mexico produces most of the world's silver supply, therefore, their silver coins are of very fine quality.

The 20 centavos shows the Indians building a pyramid. All Mexican coins are interesting and are very easily obtainable, according to inflated U.S. coin prices.

Collectors 'Taken' By Dimes Racket

ST JOSEPH, MO—A different kind of confidence racket was reported to police Thursday. Coin collectors said they had purchased dimes that had been altered to make them appear more valuable.

Eddie Cazel said he paid $35 for what he thought was a 1916-D dime. He then found the D, indicating the Denver mint, had been added. Mr. Cazel said another collector here, Gib Cooper, paid $36.25 for a similarly altered dime.

Collectors say only 264,000 of the 1916-D dimes were minted and that their value to collectors ranges from $25 to $400, depending on condition.

BILL PROVIDES STAMP IN HONOR OF DR. DOOLEY

WASHINGTON—Representative Becker (Rep.), New York, introduced a bill Tuesday which would authorize the Postmaster General to issue a special postage stamp in memory of the late Dr. Thomas Anthony Dooley of St. Louis.

Representative Becker said that such commendation was only a token of the respect and love for this man who "illuminated the ideal of Christian love by a life of courageous service to his fellow man."

Dr. Dooley, whose work among the people of the Far East made him a legend, died in January of cancer. Last year he toured the United States to raise funds for his jungle hospital program. He returned to his hospital at Laos before returning to New York where he died.

$1000 Bills Outdated By Credit Cards

The United States Treasury has not ordered a $1,000 bill printed since 1945, Elizabeth Rudel Smith, treasurer of the United States, said in Los Angeles earlier this month.

The credit card has killed the $1,000 bill, according to Mrs. Smith. In fact, she said, nothing larger than $100s has been printed.

"We just don't seem to need them any more," said the lady treasurer.

"Money was originally invented as a convenience—and the cards have just about taken over that function."

Mrs. Smith who is a Democratic national committee woman for California, spoke before a Democratic legislative campaign kickoff dinner on the west coast.

Dear Sir:

I have only been a subscriber to your magazine since November of last year. I have not tried to sell your magazine for the prizes that you are offering but I do tell my friends that your magazine is the tops in numismatic news.

I am writing this letter to try to get some information. I have in my possession a 1960 small date proof set and a 1960 large date proof set. In the 1960 small date set I found that the nickel has the thin or the large date, and the 1960 large date set has the thick or the small date nickel. I was wondering if anyone else had reported this to you.

As far as being lucky in finding coins I have recently found a 1942/41 dime in extra-fine condition; this I found in a roll of dimes that I had gotten from a bank. I also went into a bank and asked for ten silver dollars and I found the following coins in the one group, 1889-CC, 1892-S 1878 eight tail feathers. I went to another bank and I got ten more silver dollars, in this bunch I got eight 1928-P's, so you see that you can still find coins laying around.

In closing, may I say that I was both pleased and surprised to find that your magazine is going to be published semi-monthly. It should be a great boost in your sales. I for one sincerely wish you luck and success with your additional edition.

—S. P. Silverman

1942-S DOUBLE DATE DIME

While looking through some coins, I found a double date or a shift 1942-S Mercury Dime. It was the first I've seen of them and I was wondering if you have seen or heard of any others that ran across a find like that. I will send it to you if you would like to examine it.

Your magazine is wonderful and now with two copies a month I think it will be better than ever. Here's hoping I hear from you.

Gentlemen:

I am new at this coin collecting business. Will you please answer the following questions for me.

Several days ago I sent my order to the Director of the Philadelphia Mint for five sets of Proof coins. I enclosed a money order $10.50. Does this order get me some coins from each mint or do I have to place my order at the other mints. Do other mints make proof coins.

—Emmett Keadle
Williamson, W. Va.

Editor's note: The Phila. Mint is the only mint to strike proof coins. Unc. mint sets of the two mints P-D may be obtained for $2.40 (10 pcs.) at the U.S. Cash Div., Washington 25, D. C.

Arrested After Passing Bogus $10 Bill in Grocery

A man who said he was Howard O. Adkins, Indianapolis, Ind., was arrested yesterday after passing a counterfeit $10 bill in a grocery at 3720 Olive street, police reported. They said that Adkins had five other counterfeit $10 bills in his possession.

Earlier in the day another man passed a counterfeit $10 bill in the store. The owner, Louis Bogus, said he became suspicious when he looked at the bill Adkins tendered to pay for groceries.

Adkins was still waiting for his change when police arrived. The man who had passed the first $10 bill was standing near the door. He walked out unnoticed while Adkins was being arrested. Adkins told police he served five years in Indiana for burglary and a federal sentence for automobile theft.

I am a new subscriber to your wonderful magazine. I thoroughly enjoy the articles that you print in your magazine.

While looking through some circulated rolls of pennies, I found a 1961-D "Bush." It is the same as the 1960-D "Bush" in your February 12 issue. Have any other readers found this coin?

I also have a 1960-D nickel on which the "D" is very weakly struck.

New French Notes

To Be Germ Proofed

Frenchmen will no longer have to handle that "filthy lucre." The Bank of France, after long research have found that banknotes are among the "dirtiest" objects known. The Bank has started printing francs on a disinfectant paper "guaranteed" to make germs harmless as long as the notes are in circulation.

"MY TWO CENTS"

By R. A. Radice

Right now there are millions of dollars in Silver Dollars in government storage. Many of these are uncirculated, and there are probably a good number of key dates to be found amongst them. Yet, the coin collector will probably never get to see them. This is because the public does not want silver dollars in circulation. One of the main reasons being that silver dollars are too cumbersome. Oh, there are times when the public (non-coin collectors) does want silver dollars. Christmas and wedding anniversaries being high on the list of times to give silver dollars. However, in a very short time these emancipated silver dollars will be back in the bank vaults. The public soon grows tired of these playthings, and usually these silver dollars end up paying part of the John Doe's bills for that month. Because of this, millions of silver dollars never see light. To add insult to injury, many banks don't even care to keep silver dollars in their vaults. They send them off to the Reserves.

Another point where silver has become a problem to the collector is in commemoratives. It seems that the government has no intentions of presenting commemoratives in the near future, all be it, there are many occasions on which they can be presented. A good example of the governments attitude in regard to commemorative coins is their lack of presenting a commemorative to honor the statehood of either Alaska or Hawaii. One of the main reasons the government does not want to issue any more commemoratives is because the distribution of these coins is usually done by a private organization. Who the government is to pick can be a political problem. Another reason cited by the government is that there are too many things to commemorate.

I would now like to offer my solution to these problems. First of all it doesn't hurt anyone in or out of the government to issue commemoratives for things that deserve to be commemorated. If there happens to be many things to commemorate, the government should be proud that they are a part of the country that has things to commemorate. As to letting a private organization distribute the commemoratives don't let them. Let the mint do it. Any extra costs in issuing the commemoratives can then be made up with their sale. We have now licked two problems, now for the third and most decisive.

Why should the government let millions of dollars in silver sit idle when they can put it to a good use? I suggest that they melt down this excess in silver dollars and make it into commemoratives. This way they will not only be taking a problem off of their hands but will be pleasing the coin collectors too.

I would appreciate any personal comments from you, the reader, on this topic. Write in care of this magazine.

Response Excellent

Dear Sirs:

Keep up the good work! Your paper is tops, especially since it now is twice a month. If you care to quote me on this feel free to do so as to following:

In your Feb. 12, 1961 issue on page 18 I had a one inch ad selling double profile nickels. I made $150.00 on that one little ad. This ad also appeared in other leading publications about the same time. The response was poor, compared to what I got from your ad. In the same issue I advertised on page 24 the Canadian Silver dollars. I sold 9 complete sets of those advertised and am still getting inquiries about them.

I read the article on the small date cents to Mr. Yeoman by N. Salimbene and must say I agree. The cents were moved out of the big dealers hands before any one knew what was happening. Also, I know for a fact that over 10 million Denver cents (Small dates) got into circulation in Detroit alone due to a shortage of pennies caused by an increase in cigarette taxes in Michigan.

These large vending companies in this area were getting about $1000 of new pennies a week during January and February.

Old Coins Finance Runaways' Trip

JACKSONVILLE, Tex., March 29.—David Gray, 14, and his friend, Bill Nicholson, 16, ran away from their homes in San Antonio and used old rare coins to finance their trip. They were stopped here after paying a service station for repairs with nickels, dimes and quarters.

James W. Gray said his son, David had run away before but this was the first time he ever took the coin collection or the family car. The coins have a face value of about $1000 and a collector's value of about $6000, he said.

"Well, Yank, I think you'll enjoy working in our London coin shop. We take time out for delicious tea and crumpets . . . instead of having your breaks for that vile coffee."

RARE KEY LINCOLN MERCURY COINS

I say I have had about as much luck in the Numismatic Field in the last four months as any other fellow collector has had.

Just before Christmas, while looking through $15 in pennies, I found a 1909-S in V.F. During January, in $50 in dimes I found the following: 1942/1 in Fine, 1927-D in V.F., and a 1931 in Ext. F. While in N.Y.C. in change I got a 1955 Double Die Shift cent in F.-V.F. which I sold for $35 because I already have one in A.Unc. and needed the money to help pay off another one in B.Unc. To my surprise the other day, I found a 1916-D dime in fine plus. About the only dimes I haven't found in circulation are the 1921-D and 1926-S, but I am still looking.

I think your readers would like to know that there are still a lot of Rare coins around. I also wonder if any of your readers have made any finds as I have.

—O—

I have the following "oddies" coins: (1) 1957-D the rim double struck on both sides, the profile of the rim is beveled like a pulley wheel for about 2/3 of circumference. (1) 1953 with the left wheat stalk filled. (1) 1951-D solid D (1) 1955-D solid D double 55 (1) 1953D & (1) 1960-D with the loops of the nines (9) solid. Your magazine is very great and I enjoy the enlarged pictures of different coins.

Nickelsville, Va.

P.S. Please tell me why the stars of the 1957 & 1958 nickels are so much larger than other dates.

COLLECTORS PREFER AMERICA'S FIRST FAMILY OF COIN ALBUMS

The Library of Coins

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by The Library of Coins. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring  $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ ", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins is the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years. They were several years in development and were designed by numismatists, to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for a descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.
